ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

Mayor James E. Burke of Burlington in speaking of a proposition to build a new city hall, says he thinks the city could profitably invest money enough for such a structure. It is not known positively, however, that he will recommend such action to the board of aldermen.

The thirtieth annual meeting of the Western Vermont Masonic Association will be held in Fair Haven January 23, 1905, instead of on the 5th, as was announced in yesterday's report of the meeting of the executive committee of the association, held in Rutland Thursday afternoon.

Supt. D. L. Morgan of the house of correction stated that there were 185 at hard labor, and six jail prisoners in the house of correction, compared with 191 at hard labor and 24 jail prisoners a year ago. During the year 542 house of correction and 241 jail prisoners have been confined, 179 being from Rutland county.

B. F. White of Burlington has returned home from a trip through the province of Quebec, where he went to trace the thief who stole a horse and wagon from his livery stable a week ago. Mr. White secured the wagon and traced the thief to several towns, but was unable to apprehend him. The search is being continued by officers.

The case of Abbie J. Elliott vs. the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. will be argued before the United States circuit court of appeals at New York January 10, 1905, on the defendant's exceptions. A verdict to recover $3,800 for the death of the plaintiff's husband, while working for the defendant company, was rendered by the jury at the last February term of the United States court in Burlington.

Gay W. Felton of Burlington, has been elected as principal of the North Brookfield, Mass., high school. Mr. Felton has returned from a three-years' season of work in the Philippines. A. C. Harvey, said to have been in business in St. Johnsbury longer than any other man in the village, has sold his clothing business to Frank E. Harris, who has been a clerk in the store for twenty years. Mr. Harvey went there May 11, 1888, and engaged in the hardware and grocery business. In 1873, in company with George P. Morse, he entered the clothing business. He bought out his partner's interest in 1886 and has conducted the business alone since that time.

John Dunn of Castleton was injured Thursday afternoon while driving Edward Dunn's horse. The horse became frightened at the trolley and ran into a tree, throwing Mr. Dunn out and breaking the wagon. He was carried into the house of Edward Dunn and Dr. C. L. Hodgkins called. His head was badly cut. The gash was one and one-half inches long and several stitches were necessary to close it. His hip also is injured. No bones were broken and he is doing as well as can be expected.

The firm of Moody & Almon, which has entered into a contract with Northfield to furnish electric power for lighting the corporation, has purchased of the estate of Catherine Kelley the Kelley farm, so called, situated west of the Central Vermont railway tracks, and south of the freight depot and corn factory. Under the contract with the village which is for one year, with an option in the village to extend six months longer, the firm receives $4,500 per year for power for village and commercial lighting. Twelve-year-old Catherine O'Connell, of Boston has located her brother, Jeremiah O'Connell, from whom she has been separated about three years. They are orphans and were adopted into different families from the Harrison avenue home in Boston. A letter from the little girl to Chief of Police Russell, of Burlington, asking if anything was known of her brother, Jeremiah, was recently printed in several papers. A woman in Middlebury read the letter and happened to know of a boy of that name in Proctor. It was soon found that he is the long lost brother. He at once wrote to his sister and is going to Boston to see her as soon as he can.

John North, a Tyson farmer, has challenged the local trotters, matching up his trotting doe for mile heats on the ice at Echo lake. North has broken the ice to drive to a sulky and hopes to do a mile in 2:10 or better. North caught the animal a year ago, but the game warden compelled him to release it. The animal persisted, however, in returning to the house. In course of time the doe attained its growth, became hardened, and North conceived the idea of breaking it to harness. The doe has developed great speed. On a level stretch, it is said she has made a mile in 2:21 and as a runner, her natural gift, the animal has made much better time, but North has laboriously trained her for a trotter.

Saved from Terrible Death.

The family of Mrs. M. L. Robbitt of Bargerton, Tenn., saw her dying and were powerless to save her. The most skillful physicians and every remedy used failed, while consumption was slowly but surely taking her life. It's the most certain cure in the world for all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at the Red Cross and Parlor Drug Stores.

YOUR HAT

May Be a Stylish One, But It Makes Trouble.

A man usually buys a hat that's "in style," but the modern hat for men has lots to answer for.

Baldheads are growing more numerous every day. Hats make excellent breeding places for the parasite germs which sap the life from the roots of the hair.

When your hair begins to fall out and your scalp is full of dandruff it is a sure sign that these countless germs are busily at work.

There is but one way to overcome the trouble and kill the germs—that way is to apply Newbro's Herpicide to the scalp—it will kill the germs and healthy hair is sure to result.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Early Laying Pullets.

Experienced poultrymen know that pullets that begin laying in the fall are quite likely, with good care, to keep it up through the winter. W. C. Stuart, Chester, Vt., speaks of his method of securing early laying pullets: "I am very much pleased with the results obtained from the use of 'Page's Perfected Poultry Food.' I find there is nothing better to feed pullets early in the fall to mature them for early laying."
